M: Management by Bateman/Snell is the fastest growing Principles of Management textbook on the market. Bateman/Snell is written from the ground up to be brief, lean, and flexible enough to enable you to cover just the topics you want at the level of depth you want, while still maintaining the integrity of the content. Plus, it does not inherit outdated examples from a hardback derivative. With market-leading teaching support and the most up to date content available, M: Management represents the best value available in the brief Principles of Management market. What sets Bateman/Snell apart? An unrivaled mixture student-focused current content and the best teaching support around.

Introduction to Managerial Accounting by Folk/Garrison/Noreen is based on the market-leading text, Managerial Accounting, by Garrison and Noreen. However, this is not simply a briefer book with chapters removed; it has been rethought and retooled to meet the needs demanded by the market: a more accessible, yet thorough student-friendly text that satisfies the basic needs of the managerial accounting student without unnecessary depth on advanced topics associated with the follow-up course, cost accounting/cost management. Faculty and students alike will find this new text has retained the hallmark features of the Garrison/Noreen text: author-written supplements; excellent readability; terrific examples; thorough, relevant, and balanced end of chapter material. In sum, this is a book instructors can count on.

With two distinct objectives, this text's approach to managerial economics takes models from recent economics research and applies the research to the internal structure of a firm. After teaching basic applied economics, the authors look inside the firm and apply this analysis to management decision making. Authors Brickley, Smith, and Zimmerman contend that organizational architecture consists of three aspects of corporate organization: the assignment of decision rights within the company; methods of rewarding individuals; the structure of systems to evaluate the performance of both individuals and business units. These three components can be likened to a stool with three legs. If one of the legs is shorter, the stool is out of balance. These three elements must be in balance in the organization as well.
