An illustrated exploration of the mid-twentieth-century filmmaker's "spaghetti westerns" considers his role in defining the genre, his visual style and elliptical storytelling methods, and his creation of such works as A Fistful of Dollars and Once Upon a Time in the West. 12,500 first printing.

C'era una volta il 1970... Una classe mitica, tutta al femminile! Donne impegnate politicamente, sessualmente libere, indipendenti. Ognuna con una storia travolgente. Con una lettera ed un particolare manuale allegato concordano un appuntamento a “ quarant ’ anni dopo ” . Passato il tempo, l ’ incontro fra di loro sarà ricco di sorprese. L ’ animo di ciascuna non è cambiato, le forme sì. Sono adulte cinquantenni ma piene di vita e pronte ad affrontare un nuovo futuro. Sganciate dalla quotidianità, seppure “ adulte ” , inizieranno un nuovo lavoro, una seconda ed originale esistenza. In fondo la vita rende impossibile ciò che sembra possibile, ma possibile ciò che a volte può sembrare impossibile, è meravigliosa e ci sorprende ogni attimo. Cynthia Carletti è nata a Roma. Psicologa, ha collaborato e collabora con numerosi Istituti di Credito occupandosi di Human Resources. Vive a Grottaferrata (RM) dove per alcuni anni, in collaborazione con uno degli Istituti di Credito e l ’ Università Popolare del Tuscolo, ha realizzato una serie di eventi per la promozione e valorizzazione della letteratura contemporanea dei Castelli Romani.

With nearly 400 scores to his credit, Ennio Morricone is one of the most prolific and influential film composers working today. In Composing for the Cinema, Morricone and musicologist Sergio Miceli present a series of lectures on the composition and analysis of film music. Adapted from several lectures and seminars, these lessons show how sound design can be analyzed and offer a variety of musical solutions to many different kinds of film. Drawing upon scores by himself and others, the composer also provides insight into his relationships with many of the directors with whom he has collaborated, including Sergio Leone, Giuseppe Tornatore, Franco Zeffirelli, Warren Beatty, Ridley Scott, Roland Joffé, the Taviani Brothers, and others. Delivered in a conversational mode that is both comprehensible and interesting, this groundbreaking work intertwines analysis with practical details of film music composition.

Spectacle, myth, fable - these words instantly leap to mind when considering director Sergio Leone's celebrated films. His popularization of the Spaghetti Western genre, through works like A Fistful of Dollars (1964) and Once Upon a Time in the West (1968), continues to have a profound impact on filmmakers worldwide. In this exciting new study, Italian film scholar Christian Uva explores a side of Leone's works rarely before discussed: the political. Grappling with the contradictions between Leone's politically critical cinematic eye and his aversion to ideological classification, Sergio Leone: Cinema as Political Fable makes sense of how the director's internal political tensions shaped the radical themes of his Western fables. Looking at Leone and his films through a number of lenses, the book examines the elements of Italian history and identity interwoven in the director's stories, provides cultural context for a career spanning from Italy's fascist regime to Leone's death in 1989, and discusses the influences that formed Leone's directorial identity. Uva focuses in particular on the postmodernist theory behind Leone's works, revealing the critical basis of his stylistic and narrative innovations and newly analyzing the most iconic sequences from The Good, the Bad, and the Ugly (1967), Duck, You Sucker (1971), and Once Upon a Time in America (1984). An admirably thorough take on the man and his works, Sergio Leone: Cinema as Political Fable provides fresh perspective on a director long-established in cinema canon.
