In this expanded edition of a classic work of spiritual theology, historian Richard Lovelace presents a history of spiritual renewals in light of biblical models. With scholarly and pastoral insight, he offers a powerful vision of renewal that can unify various models across traditions, combining individual and corporate spirituality, social activism, and evangelism.

This volume surveys the state of the discipline on topics of greatest importance to evangelical theology. Each chapter has been written by a theologian or scholar who is widely recognized for his or her published work and is considered a leading thinker on that particular topic.

In today's twenty-first century, we live in a world of perfect means, but confused goals. There is a crisis in the world momentarily, which is unpredictable as politics and uncontrollable as inflation. It is the breakdown of morality and discipline in the home and ultimately the family. Behind this background, the times are confusing and young people everywhere are searching for a standard to believe in, an example to follow and a world they can relate to. In this atmosphere, it is important for the family to preserve society for upcoming youth as the society can only be as strong as the family. Regrettably, as you look around at your fellow human beings, you find it hard to ignore the fact that very few are fulfilled and leading focused lives. Most of them are unable to cope with their problems and the circumstances of daily living. The majority settling for the average, having resigned themselves to, "just getting by." Acceptance to mediocrity has become a way of life. The feeling of inadequacy causes them to blame society, people, circumstances and surrounding conditions for their failure and disappointments. The idea that people and things control their lives is so ingrained in their thinking that they normally will not respond to logical arguments. There is a growing awareness that if democracy is to survive and its precious strength are not to be strangled by international and internal chaos, then we must get on with the work of constructively analyzing our family system. Our thinking must then be from the concern of quantity, toward attention of quality and from the concept of individuality, toward the concept of interdependence. Planning must be aware of its origin in hope, as hope is nurtured by images of the future that we desire. To refuse to hope is an act of disloyalty against our humanity, as hope is always the future now. To hope is to evoke the future.

Worship. Small groups. Community outreach. Prayer Evangelism. Political action. Missions. Signs of renewal are springing up everywhere. How can we encourage and sustain this spiritual vigor? How can we make renewal a way of life? Spiritual growth, says Richard Lovelace, depends on grasping and applying certain key biblical principles. We need to understand how the forces of evil work against us and what God has done for us in Christ. Lovelace begins by focusing on our need to develop a God-centered, kingdom-centered life. He then details the dangers and strategies of the world, the flesh and the devil. Individually we are renewed as we grow in Christ, who accepts us, frees us from bondage to sin, and lives in us through the Holy Spirit. Corporately we are renewed as we pray, participate in community life, increase our theological depth, and reach out with the gospel in word and deed. This book incorporates insights from seven years' thought since Lovelace's earlier Dynamics of Spiritual Life. Its shorter length and added discussion questions make it ideal for small group study as well as for individual reflection. This is a guidebook for all who desire spiritual growth.

"If you want to discover new ways of entering the Bible, and letting it enter you, you will find no better guide than Richard Foster." — Lauren F. Winner, Duke Divinity School, author of Girl Meets God "Foster's work is not for those readers who are seeking quick answers or a behavioral checklist of what the Bible says they should do. Rather, it is a deep reflective guide to spiritual rumination and growth." — Publishers Weekly Richard Foster, the beloved, bestselling author of Celebration of Discipline, Streams of Living Water, and Prayer, shows the intimate connection between Scripture and spirituality, revealing the secrets to living the "with-God life."

If you have ever experienced a "Close Call", one that was "Life-Threatening", and you were somehow "saved" from harm, or even death, you may relate to my stories, the adventures in this short Double Book! I describe strong, absolute evidence of "intervention" by Spirit Guides who either warned or guided and at times actually INTERVENED on the physical level to cause or ensure my survival! Every story is based on actual, unembellished, frightening experience, NOT fantasy or imagination. Over the course of my long life, I have been amazed at the patterns, the events that we attract into our lives, what we learn, and the dynamics of how one thing leads to another. And how disappointments usually, if not always, turn out for the best! Or prevent that which was latently negative. Some subtle aspect of our non-conscious or inner mind in conjunction with Spirit, it seems, is a better guide to actualizing our best potentials and keeping us on our Right Path during our lives than reason or intellect. To REASON is fine, but to INTUIT is divine! In relation to that, I firmly believe, based on experience, that the more evolved human being attracts and enjoys the benefits of having Spirit Guides and Guidance! Or, it may be that certain of us are more aware of them, especially in times of need or crises. I believe we knew Them, our Spirit Guides, prior to physical incarnation here on the Earth Plane(t)! And, were and are in some sense "of them". Before evolving and entering a physical body to live in for a life-time, long or short, for the purpose, primarily, of personal evolution. Prior to incarnating, we may have said to Them, our Spirit Friends, "Keep in touch!" And so they do! So they have! Ever keeping in constant touch acting as our Spirit guides while we move through our Incarnation, our Personal Drama for whatever reasons. Does the above philosophy apply to every last human in existence? Or must a human being first evolve to a certain level of consciousness before one qualifies? My personal conjecture is that likely we must at least attain to the level of being "aware that we are aware" prior to more sophisticated dynamics kicking in. (A mind-teaser: We can be aware that we are aware, but we cannot be aware that we are aware that we are aware. It ends at the first level of awareness of awareness.) I do not KNOW for certain if a human being must evolve at least to that degree or level of awareness, aware of being aware, but I DO remain curious and conjecture! And I have become a QUESTioner! One who "quests" AND "questions!" AND, I tentatively believe that during my life in any given incarnation, I continue, at some level of consciousness, my associations with Those who are of my Inner Plane Grouping. Those of us who live in or on a certain level of the Light "in" God (the One, the Source, the Ground of Being!) In my book FLIRTATIONS WITH DEATH, "Psychic Stories", "Close Calls" and "Spirit Guides", that I am introducing here, I present and describe memories of many Problematic Dramas, and Reflections about the role of Spirit or Spirit Guides during those traumatic situations. Even or especially "Life-threatening" experiences that are referred to as "Close Calls". Stories about the "what happened" and my observations and tentative conclusions in regard to the dynamics of each. ESPECIALLY the role and actions of Spirit or Spirit Guides. A book of stories such as this may reinforce the reader's thoughts and wonderings about similar events that have happened in their own lives. Or, help to explain what may seem or appear mysterious. But whatever the benefit, it is my hope that the reader will find pleasure in reading my accounts and analyses! By CONTRAST to the DISpleasure I had experiencing them!

Transformation is what Christianity is all about. To follow Jesus is to enter into a journey from an old way of living to a new way of being. As Christians our goal is to become ever more conformed to the image of Christ. Of course we cannot attain this high goal in our lifetime. But we can make progress. We can become more of who we long to be. We can leave behind old ways that have not served us well. We can become more loving to others, more open to God, more in tune with who we are called to be. Such transformation does not happen automatically, even though it is the Holy Spirit working in us to change us. We are asked ""to work out your own salvation with fear and trembling; for it is God who is at work in you, enabling you both to will and to work for his good pleasure"" (Phil 2:12-13). We work; God works in us. This book is about our part in the work of transformation. Spiritual Transformation examines two main themes. 1) The Dynamics of Spiritual Transformation are explored in six small group sessions: what it is and how it happens. 2) The Goal of Spiritual Transformation is described in six small group Bible studies focusing on Romans 12 & 13, where Paul provides a blueprint for how we are meant to live as followers of Jesus. ""What a gift to have Dick Peace as your trusted guide into the soul's geography of spiritual maturity and transformation. With his small group expertise and pastoral approach to formation, you will be well fed and nurtured as you work your way through each chapter. Let the Spirit empower your steps and be sure to enjoy the journey ahead."" --Stephen A. Macchia, Founder and President of Leadership Transformations, Director of the Pierce Center, Gordon-Conwell Theological Seminary; Author of Becoming a Healthy Church ""This valuable and practical guide combines Richard Peace's life-long study of how people grow in Christ with his vast experience of the dynamics of small groups. Peace's gentle and wise leadership assists others in discovering the process of transformation, or conformity to Christ, that is possible only through the Holy Spirit. I highly recommend this well-crafted study for any who desire to experience the fullness of the Christian life."" --Tom Schwanda, Associate Professor of Christian Formation and Ministry, Wheaton College ""Spiritual Transformation is the book I have waited for since using Richard Peace's spiritual formation studies with a group that was left longing for more. They needed this final study in the series and it should come with a warning: Danger! Don't read unless you want deep change."" --Paul Jensen, Author of Subversive Spirituality; Affiliate Professor of Christian Spirituality, Fuller Theological Seminary; President and Founder, The Leadership Institute Richard Peace, PhD, holds the Robert Boyd Munger Chair as Professor of Evangelism and Spiritual Formation at Fuller Theological Seminary. He is the author of numerous books and articles, including Noticing God."

As the demand for electrical power increases, power systems are being operated closer to their stability limits than ever before. This text focuses on explaining and analysing the dynamic performance of such systems which is important for both system operation and planning. Placing emphasis on understanding the underlying physical principles, the book opens with an exploration of basic concepts using simple mathematical models. Building on these firm foundations the authors proceed to more complex models and algorithms. Features include: * Progressive approach from simplicity to complexity. * Detailed description of slow and fast dynamics. * Examination of the influence of automatic control on power system dynamics. * Stability enhancement including the use of PSS and Facts. * Advanced models and algorithms for power system stability analysis. Senior undergraduate, postgraduate and research students studying power systems will appreciate the authors' accessible approach. Also for electric utility engineers, this valuable resource examines power system dynamics and stability from both a mathematical and engineering viewpoint.

This book focuses on the origins, evolution, and demise of the Continental Congress, reinterpreting its successes and failures from the perspective of the "new institutionalism." In the process, the book lays open a fascinating historical laboratory for exploring contemporary questions about the nature of political institutions, the strategic incentives those institutions present to those involved, and the outcomes that result.
