of Year 4 science

teaching were gathered by research teams based

at Edith Cowan

University, Deakin

University, the Freie

the National Taipei

University of Education.

Meetings of these

research teams over a five year period at which data were shared, analysed and interpreted have revealed significant new insights into the social and cultural framing of primary science teaching, the complexities of conducting cross-cultural video-based research studies, and the strategies and semiotic resources employed by teachers to engage students in reasoning

and meaning making.

The book's purpose is to disseminate the new insights into quality
science teaching and how it is framed in different cultures;
methodological
advancements in the field of video-based classroom research in
cross-cultural settings;

and, implications for practice, teacher
education and research.

“The chapters (of this book) address issues of contemporary relevance
and theoretical
significance:

embodiment, discursive moves, the social unit of learning and instruction, inquiry, and reasoning
through representations.

Through all of these, the methodologies. The final two chapters offer connective links to

implications for practice in teacher education and in cross-cultural

into teaching and learning. These multiple and extensive

connections constitute one of the books most significant

accomplishments. The

pedagogies, the EQUALPRIME project
also speaks to those involved in teacher education and to teachers. I commend
this book to the reader.
It offers important insights, together with a model of effective,
