This is a true Nora Roberts book, good strong woman who is successful in her field. Strong alpha successful male, fall in love (eventually) after the Sparks start to fly. I wouldn't say this was one of her best, hence only 4 stars.

"Going Home" is really 3 of Nora Roberts's books--"Unfinished Business", "Island of Flowers" and "Mind Over Matter". The stories are of 3 couples that have their problems in trying to fall in love. My personal favorite was "Unfinished Business". The plots are predictable but make for cozy reading.

Don't miss this classic tale of romance and intrigue from #1 New York Times bestselling author Nora Roberts. David Brady needs a star for his documentary on paranormal psychology. When he finds out theatrical agent A.J. Fields has a psychic for a client, he's thrilled. However, A.J. is reluctant to let her client work with the smooth-talking producer who's obviously a skeptic.

Theatrical agent Aurora Fields kept her personal life strictly separate from her profession, but lines were crossed the moment she met David Brady. He had hired her client for his documentary on paranormal phenomena, and Aurora stayed on hand to protect the woman from exploitation. Somehow David saw that Aurora's tough self image was a little soft around the edges, and he was determined to discover what she was trying to hide. He'd always considered himself a good judge of people, so why did each moment he spent with Aurora leave her as enigmatic -- and enticing -- as before?

Two reader-favorite tales about learning to let love in... MIND OVER MATTER David Brady has found the star for his documentary--a real psychic! Unfortunately, no-nonsense theatrical agent A.J. Fields is fiercely protective of her client--especially since that client is her mother! David is obviously a skeptic, and she isn't going to expose her mother to ridicule. David can tell that A.J.'s icy exterior is just a front, but he knows it's going to take a lot more than charm to get her on board with his plans. A.J. is an enigma, and he is determined to find the key. DUAL IMAGE Soap opera star Ariel Kirkwood has got her hands full. Playing Booth DeWitt's cruel ex-wife in his semi-autobiographical film is the chance of a lifetime. Not only that, she's secretly in the middle of a custody battle for her brother's son. The last thing she has time for is a complicated relationship with a moody screenwriter, yet Ariel can't get sexy Booth out of her mind. Ever since his very public breakup with his ex-wife, Booth has had serious trust issues. All the same, he can't help it when Ariel makes her way into his life--and into his heart. International bestselling author Nora Roberts brings you two tales of danger and suspicion too close to home... Treasures Lost, Treasures Found Kate Hardesty had inherited a pile of mysterious ocean charts. Her practical, no-nonsense father had had a dream -- sunken treasure -- and he'd left a map leading to a gold-laden ship. Determined to complete her father's explorations, she turned to the only man with the ability to tackle the treacherous dive deep beneath the Atlantic: Ky Silver. Kate had left Ky four years ago, frightened of the needs he awoke in her, yet now she needed him more than ever. But working with Ky meant more than searching for gold pieces -- it meant plunging her heart into the depths of love... Mind Over Matter Theatrical agent Aurora Fields kept her personal life strictly separate from her professional one, but lines were crossed the moment she met David Brady. He had asked her client to participate in his documentary on paranormal phenomena. Aurora agreed, but she stayed on hand to protect the woman from exploitation as fiercely as a mother tigress. David saw that Aurora's tough self-image was a little soft around the edges, and he was determined to discover what she was trying to hide. He'd always considered himself a good judge of people, so why did each moment he spent with Aurora leave her as enigmatic -- and enticing -- as before?
