Gay teen Marcus helps his friend Frannie chat up her crush online, but then becomes convinced that the crush is falling for him instead.

Amy Flowers is upset when her friends get assigned to work at a community garden while she gets stuck teaching first graders about health with mean Fiona and annoying Preston, but she is confused when Fiona starts acting nice.

Mieka Baker just wants to be normal. It ' s tough enough that her mom left a few years ago and that her artist dad decorates the house solely with " treasures " from the " vintage " store (read: all their furniture is made out of plastic) but it ' s just too much when Mieka and her dad have to leave Boston to go to spend the summer with her sick grandmother in Texas—someone Mieka has never met. Grandma Baker isn ' t just brutally honest, she ' s brutal. She tells Mieka she ' s fat, frumpy, and basically unwanted. It ' s all too much to handle, especially when she has to stay with her Aunt Kate ' s family. The most normal family ever. Aunt Kate stays at home with the kids (where IS Mieka ' s mom anyway?), Uncle Dave wears a suit to work, cousin Mark is a genius and Greta—well, she ' s Mieka ' s age but that ' s where the similarity ends. She ' s blond, beautiful, fit, friendly, popular and practically perfect. But as the summer progresses and Mieka learns a thing or two about herself (hey, she can actually learn to enjoy herself at camp, even if it is Bible camp and she happens to be a bit chubbier than every other camper there) and her family members she realizes that there ' s no such thing as normal. That even though she and her dad aren ' t a conventional family and aren ' t rich and don ' t go to church they are incredibly lucky to have each other and to have love. And even the perfect kids seem to be chasing normal too.

Amy Flowers is starting seventh grade at a new school, the exclusive Allington Academy, but in order to fit in, she has to get on the right side of the League, the clique that controls the school, and its mean leader, Fiona.

DON ' T WE ALL harbor the secret wish that we won ' t have to work for it? That luck—be it a spin of the wheel, a hop of the dice, the right card at the right moment—might just choose to favor us, whether we deserve it or not? That universal desire, along with many others, is played out in the lives of three teens who hope to beat the house, and control their futures. Come meet:

- Sanjay, who wants to be much more than the dutiful, hardworking immigrant ' s son
- Kat, who wants enough cash to run as far as she can, from her past and who she ' s afraid she might become
- Jerrica, who thinks she can foresee the cards, and maybe make them be what she needs them to be.

Each is irresistibly drawn to gambling ' s alluring flirt, and to entanglements with each other, and within themselves. Themes of obsession and other risky business fuel the pages of this fast-moving, provocative tale.

Rosetta, a dainty garden-talent fairy, and her friend Fawn, a rough-and-tumble animal-talent fairy, face their fears when Fawn agrees to dress up for a fancy dinner with the queen and Rosetta spends the next day doing Fawn's favorite things.
